THE ARKANSAS DIFFCULTY.

Proclamation by the President.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15.—Attorney General Williams has submitted to President Grant his opinion on the state of affairs in Arkansas, that according to the Constitution of that State the Legislature alone has power to decide contested elections for the office of Governor, and the General Assembly having declared Elisha Baxter duly elected, it appeared to be the duty of the general government, in pursuance of a provision of the Constitution of the United States, to determine which of the two persons is the constitutional Governor of Arkansas. In accordance with this opinion the President has issued a proclamation recognizing Elisha Baxter as Governor under the Constitution of the State, and commanding all turbulent and disorderly persons to disperse and retire peacefully to their respective abodes within ten days from this date, and hereafter to submit themselves to the lawful authority of the Executive.

MORE FIRING TO-DAY—RECEIPT OF THE PRESIDENT'S PROCLAMATION.

LITTLE ROCK, May 15.—Regular trains commenced running again on the Little Rock and Fort Smith Railroad yesterday. The trains on the Cairo and Fulton Railroad have been and now are running through unmolested by the political disturbances. Two Baxter men fired into the House from the opposite side of the river about twelve o'clock to-day. About one hundred shots were fired at them from the State House in return. No one hurt. The President's proclamation was received at three o'clock this afternoon.

GREAT EXCITEMENT AND REJOICING—BAXTER CONGRATULATED.

As soon as it became known, the wildest excitement prevailed on the street. Never in the history of Little Rock was there such cheering and general rejoicing. Men, women and children are rejoicing, stores are opened, flags waving, bands playing, and the people are wild with their exclamations. The President and Baxter are just now two popular men in the eyes of the people of Little Rock. Hundreds of people are rushing to Baxter's quarters to congratulate him.

GENERAL ORDER BY THE GOVERNOR.

Governor Baxter has issued a general order to the officers and soldiers, congratulating them upon their valor and patriotism, and upon the State having been rescued from a vile ring of tyrants and thieves.

THE BANK SWINDLERS.

A Statement About the Release of the "Little Man," Allen's Accomplice---An Investigation Ordered.

Our readers are familiar with the facts of the arrest of H. S. Allen and a "little man," name unknown, on suspicion of being bank swindlers. Allen is now in jail awaiting trial on a charge of forgery while the accomplice is at large, having been released in a mysterious and unexplained manner, from custody. Much comment has been made on the subject and for the information of the public we publish below in full the statement of Mr. F. E. Moore, Cashier of the International bank, through whose instrumentality the arrests were made.

The statement, which was last night read before the Police Committee is as follows:

To the Chairman of the Police Committee:

In pursuance of a request to lay before your committee what transpired between the Chief of Police and myself, on the occasion of the arrest of H. S. Allen (now in the county jail, charged with attempting to swindle the International bank of this city), and a person found in his company heretofore designated as the little man. I would say; some four hours after the attempt was made, I was called upon by the Chief and one of his detectives (who had heard of the affair through one of our directors), who, after having me relate the affair to them again, asked to see the letter that had been used. After looking the same over the Chief remarked, Oh, yes this must be the same party who went through the East Liberty bank, as it is the very same form of letter and handwriting used there. He asked then, to retain the letter, remarking "do not say anything to any one about this; keep it perfectly quiet and I will attend to it." I did not get up to the Mayor's office until half an hour after the arrest. I fully identified Allen as the one who had attempted his "game" on me, but the small man, to my knowledge, I had never seen. After a few moments' conversation, the Chief sent for Acting Mayor McMasters, and during the absence of the messenger, he stated we could not hold the little man, as there was nothing against him. I remarked he had a suspicious look, and the fact of his refusing to give his address or any references, gave him a bad color. He then said, again, there was no evidence to hold him on and he would not take the responsibility. Upon the arrival of McMasters the case was stated to him, whereupon he immediately said, "Send him to the workhouse for thirty days as a suspicious character," but the chief would not hear to it, saying there was nothing to hold him on. Then McMasters, seemingly acting upon the advice of the chief, discharged him. Upon the person of the little man was found two baggage checks, which officer Cupples had taken to the depot to telegraph the stoppage of the baggage, (the contents of which, I presume, the chief is fully aware of). Cupples returned just before the discharge of the little man, and upon the chief hearing what had been done, he seemed very angry, and wanted to know who had given him (Cupples) authority to do this. I might say here, if not out of place, that it was the earnest advice of both Cupples and Scott to retain the little man. Attention was then turned to Allen, and while McMasters was drawing up the information, I asked the Chief if he would not have it made out in his name, as it was a new sort of business to me, and I did not understand it. He said, "No, sir, I will not; I was caught up for $200 lost in making an information against a fellow, and I will not do so again." I then asked him if it would not be safe to do it. He said: "You can do as you please about it, but I wouldn't do it." I then asked Mr. McMasters if the prisoner should not be held on evidence furnished, whether he could prosecute me for false arrest. He said no. Whereupon the information was drawn up and duly signed, and it is still my belief that the Chief did not want the information made against Allen. Hastily submitted,

F. E. MOORE.

The action of the committee on the communication is given elsewhere.

A DRUGGIST'S DILEMMA.

Toward midnight last Tuesday evening, a party of friends with the A. P. Callow band, started for the residence of Hugh S. Fleming, Esq., Mayor elect, of Allegheny, who had underwent Squire Ross' chief condition of success—"received enough votes." Their purpose was to serenade the ex-Sheriff. On their way down, they conversed socially but in a rather loud tone of voice; so loud, in fact, that it disturbed the slumbers of a pharmaceutist, who lives some where on a prominent thoroughfare between City Hall and Mr. Fleming's residence, and whom we will call Mr. Blank, for obvious reasons. Mr. B. rushed in his nocturnal habiliments to the window, and, by the light of a neighboring street lamp recognizing an acquaintance, asked "What's the matter?"

The Friend—Oh, nothing much, we're going to serenade Mayor Fleming. Come down and stand on the front steps and hear the music.

In accordance with this advice, Mr. B., without waiting to don his scattered raiment, went down stairs, opened the door, which is self-locking, pulled it shut and stood on the front steps waiting for the band to play. After spending some fifteen minutes in this position, his patience was awarded by hearing the opening notes of the serenade. As the music was barely audible, the druggist, unperceived, as he imagined moved toward the next corner, so that he could get his tympanum in good focal position. While here a window was raised on the opposite side of the street, and a head protruded—a listener thought Mr. B., who does not perceive me. In order the better to conceal his novel street costume he crept backward into a sheltering doorway, but in doing so upset an empty store box. "At once there rose so wild a yell" from the protruding head across the street, that Mr. B. was scared almost out of his wits, but retained sufficient energy to start in a bee line at full speed for home. But he was not to escape so easily. Windows were raised in front of him, windows in rear of him, and the midnight air fairly roared with the cries and screeches of "murder," "fire," "police," "mad dog," "burglars," "stop thief," and numerous other complimentary epithets which only made him run the faster. A crowd of half dressed masculines gathered and pursued. At last Mr. B., arrives panting and breathless at the front door. But, horrible to relate! it was closed, locked, and the key was upstairs in his veskit pocket. Here was a dilemma. In desperation he rang the night-bell of his drug store, which, with the exception of the hall, occupied the lower story of his dwelling. The drug clerk rubbed his eyes, and listened. Again banged the door-bell, louder than ever. The clerk turned on the gas and rushed to the front door. But Mr. B., in his fragile uniform, shunned the tell-tale gaslight, and skulked back to the hall door, the bell of which he rang vigorously. The clerk, without waiting to unlock the store, rushed to the hall door, but was long enough fumbling at the night latch, before he could work it open, to allow the crowd of neighbors, who had just come up, to satisfy themselves that Mr. B. was not a burglar, only slightly somnambulistic. And now, he snores "when the band begins to play," and says he is opposed to music in the parks.

SURPRISE OF BURGLARS.

They Beat an Officer and Escape---The Officer Accidentally Shot by Himself.

Between three and four o'clock yesterday morning Officer Morris Rosenthal, observing three men suspiciously loitering about a lamp post corner Penn and Twenty-first streets, accosted them and directed them to retire. One of the party remarked that they were waiting on a companion who was down street, and as soon as he returned they would go home. The officer then crossed over to the other side of the street, and three doors from the corner, is situated the grocery store of Mr. Walker, which adjoins the tavern of Mr. Ditman. The door was slightly ajar and opening it the patrolman saw a burglar at work. He shut it at once, but the fellow inside burst it open and rushed out, striking the officer and felling him to the ground. Rosenthal bounded to his feet immediately and started in pursuit. As soon as he could get his revolver out he began firing and five shots were fired without effect, the four thieves escaping. Sometime afterwards the revolver was accidentally discharged, and one of the remaining cartridges struck the officer in the right hand, cutting the third and second fingers and passing into the palm of the hand. Dr. Asdale probed the wound for a considerable while, but was unable to find the ball. Less than two weeks ago he surprised and captured a burglar in the act of breaking into Mr. Ditman's saloon, next door to Mr. Walker's store, and the fellow is now in jail awaiting trial. The thief surprised last night had obtained possession of the till but nothing was abstracted.

A HUGE HAUL.

Arrest of a Supposed Swindler.

On the sixth of the present month Mr. James D. Ulery, an East Liberty stock dealer, gave information to the detectives that he had been robbed by two of his employees of $5,531, in this wise: He gave them checks on city banks to buy that amount in Eastern drafts. They came to town, raised the money, and made themselves scarce. Until midnight last night nothing further was heard of them; but the detectives were on the alert. As the Erie express, due here at 11:45 P. M., arrived at the Union Depot, Thomas Murphy, one of the employees in question, stepped from the train and into the arms of Chief of Police Irwin and Detective John Herron, who lodged him in the Tombs. His comrade has not yet been nabbed. On Murphy's person was found $5 00 in coin and currency. The arrest is an important one, and the officers named deserve credit for their shrewdness.

Controversy Between Engineers---The Arkansas Dispute Settled---President's Action Wise and Just---Bounty for Discharged Soldiers---Proposed Extension of Claim Time---Suggestions on the New Finance Bill.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15, 1874.

Engineers' Controversy.

The controversy between the civilian and army engineers on the geological and topographical survey of the Territories has awakened an interest among engineers generally throughout the country. The attempt to consolidate all the government surveys except public lands under the Engineer Bureau had received a black eye in the Senate and the House Committee have reported favorably on the appropriation for the continuance of the valuable surveys for seven years conducted by Dr. Hayden. A large number of letters have been received here from civil engineers protesting against the employment of army engineers in improving the Western rivers, especially the mouth of the Mississippi. The question promises to enlist considerable attention in Congress.

Settlement of the Arkansas Dispute.

It has been intimated in these dispatches, that Baxter would finally be sustained as the lawful Governor of Arkansas. The proclamation of the President to-day recognizing the Baxter government is admitted by all, except Senator Clayton and his adherents, here to be both wise and just. This action of the President will place a check upon future collisions, and it is understood that the State House, which has been held by Brooks, will be surrendered without further resistance. Brooks' friends say that he will still claim his right to the gubernatorial office. Every officer of the State government, except the Secretary of State, has recognized Brooks. It is said that Brooks will continue to attempt to collect the taxes, but will avoid a collision with the United States forces. To-night the rooms of Judge Wilshire, the only member from Arkansas in Congress who stuck to the fortunes of Baxter from the beginning, are a scene of considerable noisy demonstration. Clayton, on Monday, will press his resolution in the Senate, asking a Congressional committee of investigation into affairs in Arkansas, but in view of the action of the President this is not likely to pass.

Senatorial Visit to Baltimore.

A Request Not Acceded to.

The Senate Committee on Appropriations have declined to accede to the request of the bank note printing companies to amend the Legislative Appropriation bill as passed by the House.

Bounty for Discharged Soldiers.

The House Committee on War Claims have authorized the report of a bill of interest to a large number of honorably discharged soldiers who, from one cause or another, have failed to file claims for additional bounty. It provides that the time for filing the claims for additional bounty under the act of July, 28, 1866, which expired by limitation on January 30, 1874, shall be revived and extended until January 30, 1875, and that all claims for such bounties filed after January 30, 1874, and before the passage of this act, shall be deemed to have been filed in due time. The bill meets the approval of every member of the committee.

The Finance Bill,

which passed the Senate Yesterday, and was received in the House to-day, was ordered to be printed. The Committee of Banking and Currency, under whose control it will be, have not yet exactly determined what course to pursue. The question has been so thoroughly discussed already that it is not deemed important to reopen the debate to any considerable extent, although there are many members who would like to be heard again. Those who want a speedy disposition of the question suggest that the best way to bring that about is for the House to non-concur in the Senate amendments and ask for a Committee of Conference. Others think it should go to the committee again for a thorough examination. There is a third element that think the House had better itself fix up a bill and let it go back to the Senate. Many among the Western and Southern inflationists, fearing that they can get nothing better, are in favor of agreeing to the Senate bill.

A portion a brick building fell in Erie on Tuesday, seriously injuring a Polander named Mozinska, and hurting two other men. Both of Mozinska's feet will have to be amputated, it is thought.

A Huntingdon lad named Skees is suffering from a broken nose, a broken arm, and the loss of several of his teeth. He fell from the balustrade in the Court House, a distance of some eighteen feet.

Charles Michener, of Bristol, Bucks county, was killed on Saturday by being struck with a base-ball bat, which slipped from the hands of a player. This makes two base-ball deaths this season.

The steam saw-mill of Hoover, Harris & Co., situated on the Tyrone and Clearfield Railroad, between Blue Ball and Phillipsburg, was entirely destroyed by fire a few days ago. Loss, $15,000; insurance, $10,000.

Thomas S. Doebler, brevet Captain on the retired list of the United States army, drawing the pay of a First Lieutenant, committed suicide in Williamsport on the 12th inst., by cutting his throat. He was suffering from mental aberation at the time.

The Southwest Pennsylvania Railroad is to be pushed to completion at once. Mr. N. A. Baillee has been appointed chief engineer, and as soon as the right of way is secured and the subscription paid in, the work will be put under contract from Connellsville to Mt. Braddock.

Max Strakosch advertised Lucca to appear in "Lucrezia Borgia" in Erie; a few hours before the time for the performance, a counter announcement was made—Lucca could not appear. Strange to say the Erieans had grit enough to stay away, and the promised work was sung to an almost empty house, with an inferior artist as Lucrezia. Served the tricky impresario right.

Fire in the Mountains.

The Brush mountain forests, between Gallitzin and Altoona, are on fire, and the woods near Lowman station are also burning at a lively rate. The Pennsylvania Railroad tracks are in no danger, but the fires are spreading rapidly, and cover a wide range of territory.

Tarred and Powdered.

John Link was found in the gutter, in front of the three-cent beer house, on Smithfield street, between Sixth and Seventh avenue, about ten o'clock last evening, covered with tar and flour. It is said that he was somewhat "boozy," and some of the boys took this method of "crusading" him. He was placed in a cell to await a hearing this morning.

The Grays at Bedford.

At eight o'clock this evening a large delegation of the Duquesne Grays, under command of Captain Aull, will leave by the Connellsville Railroad for Bedford, for the purpose of making arrangements for the encampment there this summer.

THE Great White River Flour is now being made under a new patent, and is giving general satisfaction. It is now the leading brand in this market. Every dealer should keep it.

CHOICE GROCERIES.

The Old Tea House, No. 20 Fifth Avenue---An Enlargement---A Large and Varied Stock of Rare Goods.

Mr. D. M. Jenkins, proprietor of the Old Tea House, No. 20 Fifth avenue, having found his quarters too circumscribed for the accommodation of his rapidly growing trade, has thrown into his store and fitted up handsomely, the adjoining room fronting on Market alley, and is now ready for the biggest rush the public can make on his establishment.

This is one of the most complete stores of its kind in the country. There is scarcely an article for table use, in the way of relish, sauce, pickles or confection, which cannot here be had, and from the most reliable makers in the world. Here, too, can always be found the goods ordinarily sold in grocery stores, of all kinds and grades. The first floor, opening on Fifth avenue and Market alley, is devoted to the sale of all the articles kept in stock, and is the most conveniently arranged place of business in the city. There are departments for teas, for coffees, for spices, for soaps, for dried fruits, for canned fruits, for pickles, etc.; and each department is in charge of a head, who gives it her special attention. In this way confusion is avoided, and business greatly expedited.

While mentioning these departments, the one containing food for the dyspeptic was nearly overlooked. Here we see fresh and Scotch oatmeal, cracked wheat, pearl wheat, cornstarch, gelatine, cocoa, chocolate and other things suitable for professional men whose too-close attention to business has impaired their digestion, and rendered a peculiar diet necessary.

On the second floor are kept teas, coffees, flour, crackers, and other articles in bulk, each having its separate apartment; and when the stock of any of these on the first floor needs replenishing, resort is had to the proper place on the second story.

The third floor is divided into rooms, for a similar purpose. In one of these may be seen bottled pickles of all kinds, put up by the celebrated London house of Crosse & Blackwell. Of these, thousands of dozens are sold every year by Mr. Jenkins. In an adjoining apartment sauces are kept. Of these there are nearly a hundred different kinds, the stock embracing the makes of every reliable house in England, France and America. Then there are potted soups and meats, Irish stew, English pot-pie, pates de foie gras, &c., ready for immediate use by excursionists, picnics, travelers or on the table at home. These are nearly all put up abroad. The shelves of an adjoining apartment are filled with jams, put up by Crosse & Blackwell, London; jellies, preserves, marmalades; preserved fruits and berries, equaling the best home-made. Space is also set aside for what are known as Mediterranean goods—that is to say, macaroni, vermicelli and other articles from Italy and the South of France. Long rows of shelves are loaded with peaches in jars, put up by the Mennonites in Eastern Pennsylvania—the handsomest the writer ever saw, and fit for the table of a prince. Mr. Jenkins also has a considerable stock of French vegetables in cans, which he is just introducing into this market. These, according to gourmets, are more tender, and of better flavor, than either English or American vegetables put up in this manner, as they are free from the alkali used to render either canned goods less tough. There are genuine Italian table oils, French mustard, Edinburg (Scotland) Albert biscuits, toilet soaps of best makes, etc. A room on this floor is set apart for the storage of paper bags of all sizes, which are used in preference to the heavy brown paper weighed and sold by other houses. This is a gain to the customer, as full weight of the article purchased is given.

As the name, "Old Tea House," indicates, Mr. Jenkins makes a specialty of the trade in teas. Thoroughly posted in all relating to this branch of business, he can always buy to the best advantage, and furnish his patrons with prime, fresh goods. But little of the best English breakfast tea is sold in this country, the article being comparatively unknown here; yet a superior brand can always be had at this house. Though strictly a retail establishment, the stock of teas kept on hand is as large or larger than that carried by any wholesale grocer in the city. Every person who buys a pound of tea from Mr. Jenkins receives as a gift a handsome little chromo, with an almost endless number of subjects to choose from. Those who buy five pounds of tea, get a larger and finer picture. If you desire frames for your pictures, neat ones will be furnished to you at much less cost than they can be had for at other places.

Coffees, also, form a specialty. They are roasted daily, and furnished fresh and without loss of strength or flavor. All grades are kept, from the common Rio to the choicest Mocha. Leading houses in New York have orders from Mr. Jenkins, that when anything new in the way of fine coffees are introduced in that market, samples are immediately to be forwarded to him. By this means our people have placed within their reach the best goods, and are supplied almost, if not quite, as soon as they of the East.

In the cellar are stored sugars, meats, lard, dried fruits and other heavy goods in large quantities. These, like the articles in the upper stories, are accessible by the elevator.

As indicating, partially, the amount of business done at the Old Tea House, it may be stated that twenty-three clerks, a majority of them ladies, are employed—and kept busy, too. There are three wagons for city delivery, and a freight wagon. A number of boys find steady work in putting up packages for customers.

Dealing strictly "on the square," and selling many goods, such as sugars, coffees, teas and flours, at wholesale rates, and others at a fair margin of profit, Mr. Jenkins is enjoying a prosperous and growing business. We can commend him to all readers of the COMMERCIAL, knowing well that one trial will convince them that it is to their advantage to deal with him.

PEACEFUL SECESSION.

Novel Method of Untying the Hymenial Bond---An Aged Couple Agree to Mutually Separate.

Dr. Wood's so-called secession ordinance may or may not have something to do with the domestic episode related below. Certainly the incident in question, if not a sequence, is at least a coincidence. About two years ago a couple, living in what was formerly known as the borough of Birmingham, had a domestic disagreement, in fact what might be termed "a skeleton in the closet." Incompatibility of temperament may have been the motive power. At all events, their trouble culminated in frequent litigation, now before this magistrate, then before that. It became obvious at last that though their days were drawing to a close they could have no contentment together. For a time they lived in separate portions of their marital home, but even this failed to prevent occasional family jars. At last the husband, who is sixty-five years of age, determined, on the advice of friends, to demand a separation. He had a holy horror of being divorced, but concluded to cast around for some other method of unloosening the nuptial knot. It may be stated by way of explaining the nature of his inflictions that he was a widower when he married his present spouse, and that she is pretty well on in years, perhaps not very far from three score. After resorting to various modes of arbitration but without avail, the parties were advised to lay their case before Alderman Louis Hager, of the Second ward. That magistrate was equal to the emergency, and yesterday drew up the following document which the husband and wife subscribed in their own hands, in German text. The names we suppress, but give the agreement in full as illustrating a novel and unobjectionable method of divorce, without exposure to the notoriety of a court process: Here is the text of the paper mentioned.

WHEREAS, Divers disputes and unhappy differences have arisen between the party of the first part and his said wife, for which reason they have consented and agreed to live separate and apart from each other during their natural lives, therefore this indenture witnesseth that the said party of the first part, in consideration of the premises and in pursuance thereof, doth hereby covenant, promise and agree to and with his said wife, that it shall and may be lawful for her, his said wife, at all times hereafter, to live separately and apart from him, and that he shall and will allow and permit her to reside and be in such place and places and in such family and families and with such relations, friends and other persons, and to follow and carry on such trade or business as she may from time to time choose or think fit to do, and that he shall not, or will not, at any time, compel her to live with him, or molest, disturb or trouble her for living separate and apart from him, nor sue, molest, nor trouble any other person whomsoever, for receiving, entertaining or harboring her, and that he will not without her consent visit her or knowingly enter her house or place, where she shall dwell, reside or be; nor shall nor will at any time hereafter claim or demand property, be the same real, personal or mixed, or any of her money, jewels, plates, clothing, household goods, furniture or stock in trade, which she now hath in her power, custody or possession, or procure; or which he devised or given to her, or that she may enjoy and absolutely dispose of the same as if she were a femme sole and not married; and further that said party of the first part, shall and will well and truly, clear of all circumbrances, for the better support and maintenance, grant and convey two certain lots, marked and numbered as lots No. 151 and 152 situated in John Brown's plan of lots in the borough of St. Clair, county of Allegheny and State of Pennsylvania, which the party of the first part now holds.

Drowns Himself While Insane.

Coroner McCallin held an inquest on the body of Jacob Lutz, whose dead body was rescued from the Monongahela river the previous evening. It appears Lutz, who is a German teacher, had been laboring under temporary aberration of mind, produced by excessive use of intoxicating drinks, and deliberately walked into the river and was drowned. The jury rendered a verdict of "suicide by drowning." Deceased was thirty-six years of age, has been in the country eleven years, and leaves a wife but no children.

THE POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The Captain's Pay---The Matter of Clothing---The Black Maria to be Sold---Meeting of the Committee.

The Police Committee of Pittsburgh held a regular meeting last evening, Mr. Duff in the chair.

Wm. Cromley, Albert Protzman, H. G. Seidel, James Pillow, Richard Curry, Geo. Taun, Frank Kennedy, James P. Dougherty and William Shultz.

The Chairman read the recent ordinance relative to appointments, and thereupon the list was laid over until the forms ordered shall be prepared.

A list of dismissals was read and ordered to be filed.

On motion of Mr. Chalmers, appointments by the Mayor were taken up. Of the names above mentioned, Messrs. Dougherty and Schultz were examined and approved as members of the sub-list when the proper papers have been filed. George H. Grady, an appointee, was also confirmed.

A sub-committee was appointed to consider and report on the claim of Deputy Mayor Barker.

The committee appointed to consider the pay of captains of the watch for extra time reported in favor of allowing one-quarter day extra until such time as councils may act upon an ordinance providing for twelve hours service from each. The day captain to have $3 50 per day and the night captain $3 50 per day. The report was received and filed.

After some discussion it was decided to fix the salaries of these officers at $1,000 per year each subject to action of councils.

Mr. Beam from a sub-committee reported in favor of selling the Black Maria team and wagon and dispensing with the service of the driver, accepted and the horses ordered to be advertised for sale.

A committee was appointed to examine into the condition of the Thirty-sixth ward station house, and to report needed improvements.

It was decided that hereafter, during the summer season, the meetings be held in the Common Council chamber.

After approving a number of bills, the question of opening bids for supplying summer clothing was taken up.

Mr. Braun called for the reading of the minutes showing the action of the sub-committee, from which it appeared that only the three merchant tailors now doing work for the force should be called upon to bid.

After some discussion the subject was referred back to the sub-committee to select cloth and advertise for further proposals, with power to act.

A communication from F. E. Moore, Cashier of the International bank, relative to the action of the Chief of Police in the case of Allen, the forger, and the "little man," his accomplice, was read, and on motion, Messrs. Zern, Thompson, Braun, W. C. Brown and Atterbury were appointed a committee to investigate and report back.

Adjourned.

INSURANCE POLICIES.

Zoller vs. the City Insurance Company.

The case of Zoller vs. the City Insurance Company, has attracted a great deal of attention, and several incorrect statements having been published, it is but justice to the company defendant that the following points be published: Crane was not an agent for the company; the premium was not paid, and the policy was ordered cancelled. The defense was that they had notified Zoller of the non-payment of the premium, and that they had ordered the cancellation of the policy; no part of the premium was ever paid, and had it been, the company could at any time have cancelled the policy and returned the premium pro rata. The son of plaintiff was notified to pay up, and when at length he refused to do so, was notified that the policies were void. Mrs. Zoller's son paid the premium to Crane, and afterwards collected back $25. This was offered to Hammer, but he declined to accept it as it was not the full amount. Zoller never tendered any of it to the City Insurance Company.

The policy of the company was sent to the Allemania's office at the request of Crane, agent of the assured, and neither Hammer, the General Agent of the Allemania, or his company, had any connection with the defendant company in the transaction, notwithstanding the ruling in effect of his Honor, Judge Sterrett, to the contrary.

The company defendant have such confidence in the equity of their case that they have decided to carry it to the Supreme Court on writ of error.

LOWER PRICES THAN EVER

The plan we a few weeks since adopted of selling Goods at small profits to cash and prompt men has brought us a large increase of very desirable trade. So well satisfied are we with the results that we are determined to continue in the same way. We Reduce Prices just as soon as we are notified of any decline in the Eastern Markets, and in this manner by lopping off a few cents here and there, we maintain our name of being the Cheapest House in our line in the city.

We confine our sales to a few articles only, and not having a thousand and one things to claim our attention, we are in a position to do justice to what we do sell. We have no Sugars, Teas, Spices, Tobaccos, Confectionaries or Coffees to worry over, and we have no high-priced Goods to average up on. We sell everything on its own merits for just what it is worth, without any regard to what other houses in the city are selling the same Goods at. If you wish to secure the SATURDAY, MAY 16, 1874.

IS IT not about time that that fire down in Arkansas was put out?

THAT pestilent cotton tax reimbursement swindle is up again in Congress, and it should be put down again instanter.

THE satisfactory rate at which revenue receipts have for some time past been coming in, have caused all ideas of increased taxation this session to be given up.

DOES the Springfield Republican think the Democratic party has any guardian angels left, now? And how would it like to see Connecticut go Republican next spring?

THE Cincinnati Enquirer considers that "there is nothing in the assertion of political principle more important than uniformity." Exactly. And the Boston Post affirms that "pure Democracy is a unit." Now tell us all about the position of the Democratic party with reference to the currency question.

AND now comes the town of Frederick, Maryland, demanding from Congress the modest sum of two hundred thousand dollars, by way of reimbursement for the same sum levied upon it by the confederates in one of their incursions during the rebellion. The application should be graciously—dismissed.

IT IS stated that GENERAL BUTLER has several times since his recent illness remarked to members without concealment that he does not intend to be a candidate for Governor of Massachusetts nor for re-election to the next Congress. The children have a conundrum running thus: "What was the reason that JACK wouldn't eat his supper?"

THE depression in the iron trade continues. To-day the Troy Steel Works and the puddling forges at the Rensselaer Iron Works, in the same city—both of them large establishments, employing several hundred men—will be entirely shut down until further notice. The outlook is by no means encouraging. We sincerely trust there will be a gradual and healthy development in the near future.

THE full measure of the political apostacy of "the journal founded by HORACE GREELEY has at length been rounded out by that paper's persistent advocacy of the election of DAVID A. WELLS, the notorious free trade doctrinaire, as United States Senator from Connecticut. The wishes of the Tribune were not gratified, it is true; but that does not make it any the less pitiful a spectacle to see the great Republican Protectionist newspaper of the country become the mere, miserable tail of the free trade Democratic kite.

IT IS to be hoped the Senate will not delay in passing the Railroad Land Taxation bill, which has just passed the House. It affects chiefly the Central Pacific, the Kansas Pacific and Atchison Central branch railroads, providing for taxation of their lands from the date that each forty miles of the roads were accepted. These roads have held upwards of fifty million acres of land for the last seven years, without the payment of a penny of taxes, and it is high time that they were made to contribute their share toward the support of the government, by which they have been so constantly favored and befriended.

PREJUDICES DISSIPATED.

Though at this writing the trial for heresy at Chicago is not concluded, or at least its result is not known, the acquittal of the accused has been for some time a foregone conclusion. So much has been clear from the incidental developments of the process, which have been from the beginning so favorable to Prof. SWING that the prosecutor must have perceived that he was laboring in vain. That is, he must have thought so, if his only object had been to effect the conviction of the alleged heretic before the Presbytery of Chicago. Prof. PATTON, however, aimed at more than that, and cannot be frustrated by failure in the lowest court of the church. He evidently believes, on what seem to him no frivolous or insufficient grounds, that in bringing SWING to trial he is defending religious truth and vindicating the doctrines of his sect, and therefore he does not intend to abandon the pursuit, even if the co-Presbyters of the accused, assembled in his church and pressed on all sides by a public opinion which resents the prosecution as an outrage, should refuse to find the charges sustained by the evidence. It is interesting to see the reluctant admiration with which some of the most hostile spectators of the trial watch the bearing of the prosecutor. At first they had only contempt for his narrow-mindedness, and ill-concealed the disappointment with which they discovered that in appearance, speech, and manners, he was not such as they had imagined him to be, that is, such a one as, in their mind, the champion of rigorous orthodoxy ought to be. He ought to be old, a sexagenarian at the least, whereas he is not yet forty; he ought to have a hawk nose and a squint, whereas his nose is straight or slightly aquiline, and his eyes, as a physical feature, are quite unobjectionable; his voice ought to be shrill and harsh, reminding listeners of the creak of a saw, or at least suggestive of the raven's croak, whereas it is rather soft and well modulated than otherwise. The manners of the prosecutor and the spirit displayed by him in conducting the case are equally inconsistent and irritating. Instead of the turbulent dogmatism and sanctimonious ferocity accordant with the character imagined by these sagacious and well-informed people, Professor PATTON exhibits on all occasions the moderation and quiet confidence of a man conscious of the honesty of his own purposes, and therefore secure from humiliation, whatever may be the issue of the trial. So far as the sharpest eye can see, he manifests becoming deference for the claims and becoming tenderness for the feelings of others, and in fact he is so generally childlike and bland as completely to bewilder the people who are on the lookout for the persecutor. True, one reporter with more penetration than his fellows, sees through all PATTON'S smooth, conciliatory ways that he is full of intellectual arrogance and looks down upon most of his fellow Presbyters as rather ill-informed, muddle-headed theologians, who do not know heresy when they see it. But the reportorial imagination is proverbially vigorous.

The truth undoubtedly is that not only the prosecutor but the Chicago Presbytery in general have so managed the trial of Prof. SWING as to command the respect of the onlooking population of many sects. Courtesy, long-suffering patience, unimpeachable fairness, entire absence of a carping, quibbling worrying spirit, sometimes apparent in such processes in other days, have marked the proceedings. Any exhibition could hardly be imagined better adapted than this trial to dispel certain prejudices still prevalent in many quarters regarding the Presbyterian ministry and the methods of their courts. This result may be said to have been produced directly and indirectly. The direct influence has been already indicated, and the discussion of Presbyterian order and doctrines in the newspapers of Chicago and of the Northwest, and in all circles of society, caused by the trial, can not fail to diffuse much light on the dark subject. The church has been fiercely assailed, but also vigorously defended. In a recent number of a paper especially bitter in its attacks upon the denomination, there is a sermon by a prominent Universalist clergyman on the subject of the SWING trial, in the course of which he says, "The Presbyterian Church has occupied a prominent place in the history of religion since the time of CALVIN, and has ever been the true friend of religious liberty,"—with more of like tenor.

Any one at all interested in the "manufacture" or in the manifestation of public opinion might find entertainment for a while in reading and comparing the comments of the press on the dogmatical developments and relations of the Chicago trial. The fine indifference to fact, the free and easy impartiality of contempt with which some of the newspapers lay the subject of controversy before their readers, is amazing. Thus, according to one editor, the question in dispute was whether there was more joy in heaven over the unbaptized pagan, SOCRATES, or over the baptized Christian, LUCRETIA BORGIA? This specimen may suffice. More instructive is the diversity of opinion in editorial minds concerning the doctrinal status of the accused as determined by the evidence. Upon the whole, there seems to be some disappointment that SWING turns out to be so nearly, if not quite, orthodox; in this respect the newspapers sympathizing with the sects calling themselves Liberal. While in consideration of the accused and his prospective triumphant acquittal, there may be gratification in his sound confession, there is surprise not wholly agreeable in the apparent slightness of his divergence from the creed of his church. Others, however, the editor, for instance, of a German paper in Chicago, the Illinois Staats Zeitung, perceives in the controversy the proper working of the "critical spirit," in the application of which to matters of faith, Protestantism had its origin, and which must continue its labor of analysis and dissection until, in the course of a few generations, the Protestant Church in the United States will consist of purely deistical societies. In those days, says the Zeitung, the only Christian church, firmly compact and full of energetic life, will be the Catholic.

Happily, though better versed in theological distinctions than those editors who find SWING nearly orthodox, the editor of the Staats Zietung is not inspired, and no alarm needs be taken at his prophesy. Happily, courage as well as comfort may be taken in the fact, about which there can be no doubt, that, even if the Chicago Presbytery acquit the Professor arraigned at their bar, they will acquit him, not as a heretic, but as a man sound in the Presbyterian faith. Hence, it will be clear that, however far the critical spirit may have driven Professor SWING, it has not yet made any desolating inroads upon the creed of his ministerial brethren.

GENERAL AND PARTICULAR.

Those rival camp-meetings down in Arkansas are still kept up.

With one spring summer fairly leaped upon us with her fiery train.

The mild and inoffensive Cleveland Plaindealer has been sued for libel in the sum of twenty thousand dollars.

Oriental study is more vigorously prosecuted and attracts more attention now than ever. And it rewards attention.

The Swing trial approaches its end, and all indications point to a triumphant acquittal of the eloquent and large-minded divine.

The Duchess of Edinburgh speaks, it is said, all Continental languages, "with a little Tartar accent." This is ominous for her husband.

A New York paper asks: "Can anybody imagine a more minute article of commerce than a silk-worm egg?" Yes: a Gotham politician.

How kind! The New York Herald is "willing to believe that the Czar will have pleasant times in England and that all things will go on well."

Liquor is still the disturbing element in Ohio. There are now upward of sixty cases under the Adair law pending in the Supreme Court of that State.

By recent legislation in Switzerland, capital punishment has been abolished, and the new constitution prohibits bank notes from being made a legal tender.

Andy Johnson is to address the National Agricultural Congress now in session at Atlanta, Georgia. The subject of his treatise is expected to be "old rye."

An International Congress of the geographical sciences will be held in Paris in the spring of the year 1875. Geographers and travelers of all countries will be called to attend it.

The Philadelphia North American prints the account of those two hundred lashes administered to Her Majesty's Vice-Consul in Guatemala, under the head of "Interesting and Useful."

The seal of spring is now set upon the sky, the earth, and the trees. Everything pipes—birds, men, and worms. Each breath is a roundelay, each breeze is a caress. The world is a poem.

Watterson, of the Louisville Courier-Journal, is still writing "impenitent" letters from Washington. His friends should take him in hand without delay, or he will soon follow poor Mellish.

They are going to hold a big Democratic reunion in New York some time this summer. All right: Any body of men who come together for the preservation of historical landmarks are to be commended.

Brigham Young has made it imperative that all who join the "Order of Enoch" should wear wooden shoes of home manufacture. No Eastern shoe factories have, as yet, shut down in consequence, however.

A thoughtful bachelor has planned and built a large two-story baby-house at Cape May for the accommodation of the little children in wet weather. The days of his bachelorhood are evidently numbered.

Civil service reform, says John Bright, is a very great success in England, and perhaps if we had the same condition of affairs on this side of the Atlantic it might be a good thing here. But we haven't.

PERSONAL.

Apropos of the Ellsworth Monument, to be dedicated next week, it may be mentioned that Frank Brownell, the avenger of Colonel Ellsworth, still lives, and was in Troy the other day.

President Grant has signed an order transferring General Sherman's headquarters from Washington City to St. Louis. General Sherman has for some time past been anxious to have the transfer made.

Ann Eliza, once the nineteenth wife of Brigham Young, has determined to bring suit for libel against the proprietor of the Chicago Times, on account of alleged defamatory statements recently made in that paper.

Paul H. Hayne, the poet, is getting off a good deal of sentimental bosh about the neglected state of Edgar A. Poe's grave. For Paul Hayne to prattle sentimentality, is hardly befitting him, after his treatment of his wife—the beautiful and accomplished Julia Dean.

A letter from West Point in reference to the graduating class says that the colored cadet Smith, who has been out of the newspapers for some time, "is doing well in his studies, and will leave quite a number of his white classmates to attend to the safe-keeping of the last class members."

Donald Cameron, an early teacher in Indiana, died in that State recently. He was teaching at the time war was declared against Mexico, and was informed of it by one of the scholars. He arose and said: "Boys, there was never a war in which there was not a Cameron, and I am determined this shall be no exception; school is dismissed until Mexico is conquered." Putting on his hat, he left the house, enlisted and served under Colonel James H. Lane to the close of the war.

Admiral Franklin Buchanan died on Thursday, at his residence in Talbot county, Md., at the advanced age of seventy-four. He is chiefly known as the commander of the Confederate ram Merrimac when she atacked and sunk the United States ships in Hampton roads, and was subsequently engaged and beaten off by the Monitor. After the affair with the Merrimac, he commanded the Confederate naval force at Mobile, when Admiral Farragut assaulted the city. At the conclusion of the war he retired to private life.

Put the System in Fighting Tune.

The great object in cases of indigestion and its accompanying derangements of the liver, bowels and nerves, is to put the stomach in a condition to dissolve, readily and without pain, the food submitted to its action. This is accomplished, and much more than this, by the daily use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. A dose should be taken before every meal. The good effect will soon be apparent. The loss of flesh, strength and energy which usually occurs in dyspepsia will be arrested. The determination of bile to the skin will cease, and that cathartic fluid will pass into the bowels and assist in keeping them free. Every organ connected with or dependent upon the stomach will be toned and renovated. The kidneys, the sifters of the system, will be beneficially influenced, as well as the liver, the alimentary canal and the pores. In short, the whole organization will be put in fighting trim necessary to resist and expel disease. If the medicine is taken regularly and persistently, this result will inevitably follow.

NOTICE.
The citizens of Allegheny are notified to be economical in the use of water. Owing to an accident the new works will not be running for some time, and as the old machinery is not capable of supplying the city, if the water is wasted, the use of hose and running of fountains is prohibited. This order will be enforced, so that there will be a supply in case of fire, and the residents of the upper portion of the city may have a supply of water.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY EVENING, May 15, 1874.

The local money market is absolutely without any change that is worthy of record. The ordinary class of borrowers and lenders are wide apart in their opinions of the rates for money and the security that should be offered, and when the latter is satisfactory money is not hard to get.

Transactions in local stocks are limited, and, as they are usually made by brokers on private terms, the figures given are not always reliable. We heard of a sale to-day of a small lot of Central Bank stock at 120.

—In the New York market railroad stocks which are under the direct influence of Western legislation, are showing a good deal of weakness, the rest of the market sympathizing. From reports it would seem that the wires connecting Wall street and Washington are daily consulted. Whenever the earnings of the railroads are promising, some party from the West introduces a bill to reduce the railway fares to meet the exorbitant demands of his constituents.

After this action has depressed the value of the stocks, the whole thing is supplemented by the passage of a bill taxing all railways which have had a subsidy or land grant. Such legislation is destroying the confidence of investors, and the prices of this class of stocks droop. Of course, these attacks upon the Northwestern roads having land grants affect the general market, and the sanguine men, classed as bulls, who believe that there is some element of worth in railway property, become despondent, and easily lose their courage. Any adventurous bear, with a few thousands at his command, seems able to strike terror into the ranks of the whole clan. This oppressive legislation must, in the end, react upon those sections which are now loudest in complaining. They seem to forget that they owe their very existence to these very railroads which they now execrate. True, these roads had not been built without government aid given in shape of subsidy or land grants, yet the government is to-day better off from having so assisted the railroads of the West, even should no direct return be received for the land and the whole subsidy lost. If the vast railroad projects now lying dormant in the West were once infused with life by the assisting power of the general government, such a thrill of returning vitality would be infused into the general manufacturing and trade interests of the country, and especially of our own district, as has not been felt for months.

The return value in the enhanced prices realized from sales of public lands, and the increased taxable wealth of the country, would far more than repay the government, if it should never be repaid a cent for guaranteeing the interest on the bonds of the Pacific railroads.

—Through the kindness of Mr. Edward Young, Chief of the Bureau of Statistics, we are enabled to lay before our readers the imports and exports for the first three months of the year, as compared with the same time in 1873:

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKET.

The wholesale trade of yesterday was not particularly different from that of preceding days. Groceries and produce were active, flour was somewhat more quiet than last week, and the grain trade was rather dull. The change in the flour and grain trades is due to the large receipts, especially of flour, which have been for the past two weeks exceptionally heavy.

Quotations are very generally unchanged. In the produce and commission trade, the noticeable changes are in the downward tendency of butter and eggs, under the influence of the warm weather, and the upward tendency of potatoes. Flour is a shade lower, although prices are not much changed. In grain, there is a downward tendency in corn which has succeeded the upward movement that took place about a week ago. In other respects the markets have not changed since our last report.

The following are the receipts of the leading articles of produce by rail and river since our last:

Flour, bbls	2,422	Apples, bbls	128
Cheese, bxs	72	Corn, sks	2,524
Wheat, sks	510	Rye, sks	170
Oats, sks	1,730	Butter, pkgs	79
Bacon, pcs	3,571	Butter, tcs	534
Potatoes, bush	95

We give quotations of leading articles at wholesale rates below. Articles not mentioned, remain unchanged since our last report.

BUTTER—The market is a shade lower and weak; although we do not find quotations noticeably lower than our yesterday's report, the tendency is downward. Choice roll in demand at 25@26c; good to prime 20@23c ℔ lb. Dealers do not adhere very firmly to the higher figures.

CHEESE—Receipts of cheese have been somewhat lighter for the past few days, and the market is unchanged, with the exception of a slight tendency toward lower prices. We quote Ohio factory 15@16c ℔ lb; Western Reserve dairy 12@13c; New York Goshen 18@19c.

FLOUR—The market in flour has fallen off, perceptibly, in the past few days, the heavy trade of the past two weeks having slackened up the demand somewhat. Prices are as follows: St. Louis 9 00@9 25 ℔ bbl; choice winter wheat $8 00@8 25; Minnesota spring wheat $7 25@7 50; Wisconsin $7 00@7 25; red winter wheat $7 25@7 75 ℔ bbl. Rye flour firm at $5 75@6 00 ℔ bbl.

Sugars—Refined sugars are firm: Standard extra C, 10c; Standard B, 10½c; Standard A, 10¾c; Standard bards, 11c; Franklin No. 2, extra, 9c; American extra C, 8¾c.

Syrups—Extra white drips 75c; sugar drips 65c; lower grades 45@50c, as to quality.

Rice—Choice Carolina 9@9½c; Panta 8@8½c; Rangoon 8c.

GRAIN—In the grain market receipts continue free, as follows: Wheat 1,275 bushels; corn 6,307 bushels; oats 4,325 bushels. In wheat prices are unchanged, white ruling at about $1 65@1 68, with light transactions; red winter at $1 60@1 61, with large business. We note sales of three cars at $1 60 on track. Oats are firm at 60@62c for white. We note sale of one car on track at 60c. Corn a little lower with tendency downward. Quotations are about 83c for high mixed shelled, in car lots; in a jobbing way 85@87c per bushel. Rye steady at $1 05.

POTATOES—Are firm and higher. Prime peach blows are quoted at $1 65@1 70 from store; on track in car lots $1 50@1 60. New potatoes $6 00@7 00 per barrel.

POULTRY, LIVE—Chickens ℔ pair 80@90c; turkeys $2 00@1 00; geese $1 25; ducks 90c@$1 00; pigeons 30@40c.

WHISKY—We quote highwines at $1 01½ ℔ gallon. The market is quiet and steady.

IRON MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

May 13.—The market still continues in a very quiet state, but the tendency is to steadier prices, occasioned by the higher ruling of rates on the other side. The arrivals are moderate, and most of the iron of late arrivals on the dock have been disposed of, amounting to perhaps 1,500 tons during the past week, mostly Eglinton, on terms kept private. From yard, there is but a small trade to meet the usual wants of consumers. American pig is very quiet, and prices are somewhat irregular. Some companies are asking $34@35 for No. 1, but business is on a very limited scale, and we can only note a sale of a small lot No. 1 X Allentown at a private rate. In rails, things remain in statu quo, while scrap is without business. Refined bar from store is quiet at old figures. The price at Pittsburgh is understood to be 2.6-10 cents, delivered there. Russia sheet may be quoted 16@17c gold. We quote common sheets 4¼@5⅛c, charcoal 5¼@6¼c, and galvanized sheet 20@30 ℔ cent. discount.—Commercial List.

WOOL MARKETS.

NEW YORK.

May 13.—The market has opened quite active this week, and the new wool of all descriptions has met with a very fair sale. Further sales of Montevideo have been made; a choice lot realized 38½ cents, but some holders are still asking 40. Most of the recently arrived cargo of Australian was imported for manufacturers' account. Fall California has the preference over the new spring California, as manufacturers claim that the prices asked for the latter far exceed its value; in consequence, the stock of the former is fast being reduced. Texas has been quiet, but the quantity here is as yet small. Cape is selling only in small lots at 35@37c. The sales comprise 198 bales Montevideo at 38½c; 50 do, Cape, 36c; 20,000 ℔s Texas 21@21½c; 4,000 ℔s new do 29c; $1 00 ℔s No. 1 pulled 50c; 200 bags X and super do 45@48c; 35, 600 ℔s X and above fleece 51@55c; 20,000 ℔s heavy do 44@48c; 154 bales fall California 21@25c; 51 do new spring do 33@35c.—Commercial List.

Toledo Market.

TOLEDO, May 15.—Flour quiet and unchanged. Wheat steady with moderate demand; extra white Michigan $1 64½; amber $1 46; seller June $1 46½@1 46¾, seller July $1 47. Corn—demand fair and market firm; high mixed 77½c; seller June 80c; seller July 79c; low mixed 69c. Oats steady with moderate demand; No. 1, 56c; No. 2, 55c.

Cleveland Market.

CLEVELAND, May 15.—Flour, corn and oats unchanged. Wheat dull and drooping at $1 45@1 64. Petroleum quiet and steady; standard white, in car lots, 12c; Ohio State test to 150 degrees 15c.

PITTSBURGH OIL TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, SATURDAY, May 16, 1874.

REMARKS—The oil market continues weak and drooping, although without any quotable change in prices since our report of yesterday. Reports from all sources show a dull and weak market, with transactions much less than those that immediately followed the decline. PITTSBURGH LIVE STOCK MARKET.

REMARKS—The continued warm weather has a demoralizing effect on the market particularly for hogs and sheep.

Cattle.

As we have before remarked the supply of cattle for the week was moderate and the quality up to or above the average. But little stock was disposed of in the early part of the week, though quite a number of county butchers were in the market searching for smooth fat steers of 1,000 to 1,100 ℔s weight, and all that were offered were taken at prices fully 25c per cent. above last weeks rates. On Wednesday and Thursday, the regular Eastern buyers put in an appearance, but did not take hold freely, contending that cattle was too high, holders wanting an advance over last week's figures, buyers offering the same figures.

PRICES.

The ruling figures of the market up to Thursday were as follows: Extra, 1,400 to 1,500, $6 50 to $6 75; prime, 1,200 to 1,350 steers, $6 25 to $6 50; good, 1,100 to 1,200, $6 00 to $6 25; fair, 1,000 to 1,100, $5 75 to $6 00; stock cattle, 800 to 1,000, $4 50 to $5 00; mixed and rough, $4 00 to $5 00.

Below we give some sales made late Thursday and to-day:

No.	Weight.	Price.	No.	Weight.	Price.
35	17,460	$3 50	4	5,475	$5 40
39	49,160	6 00	15	20,320	6 20

Hogs.

The hog market rather baffled the oldest dealers this week, there being such a variation in prices on the same weights from day to day and hour to hour at times. This state of things was attributed to the great scarcity of what are termed prime, well fatted, ripe hogs suitable for the Philadelphia trade. On Wednesday the market was draggy, Philadelphia buyers taking but few at $6 20@6 40. There were a few lots of Yorkers and Baltimores sold at $5 15@5 50. On Thursday the situation was unchanged, with the exception that the arrivals became much lighter, especially of heavy weights, which would indicate that this class will be in demand during the coming week. The preference is given to weights 260 to 280 ℔s, with a difference of $1 25 to $1 50, from extreme light Yorkers to best Philadelphias. We quote as follows:

PRICES.

Extra Philadelphia $6 25@6 50; prime Philadelphia $6 20@6 30; extra Yorkers $5 25@5 50; rough and common $4 00@4 25.

We cull the following sales which were made today, from which it will be observed that prices have changed little, if any, since yesterday:

No.	Weight.	Price.	No.	Weight.	Price.
99	22,690	6 25	96	13,890	6 25

Sheep.

As we have before remarked, the supply of sheep this week was less heavy, and the market very dull and dragging. The prices compared with last week's rates are fully $1 00 ℔ 100 ℔s lower. A large majority of the offerings were shipped, some of which was very common. We think farmers do not consult their interest in sending so many common, thin sheep to market this time of the year, as there is no sale for them at any living prices. There was sheep sold on Wednesday as low as $4 50 ℔ 100 ℔s. All offerings of wooled sheep have been very common and hard to sell, as the weather is too warm to handle them with safety. Some of the regular buyers for the Eastern markets refused to purchase any wooled sheep, as they are not wanted there. Last week the difference between wooled and clipped sheep was $1 00@1 50; this week the difference on 90 to 100 ℔s is $1 00. Wooled sheep and clipped is not more than 50c@$1 00. However, from this time forward it will be unnecessary to designate the two classes of sheep, as there will be few wooled offered.

PRICES.

The following were the ruling rates of the market during the week ending Thursday, May 15: Extra 100 ℔s, $6 75; prime 90 to 95 ℔s, $6 25@6 50; good 80 to 85 ℔s, $6 00@6 12½; fair 70 to 75 ℔s, $5 25@5 75.

The following sales were made to-day:

No.	Weight.	Price.	No.	Weight.	Price.
426	33,960	$6 50	32	2,980	$5 25
40	3,540	6 12	61	5,000	6 12

Prospects Ahead.

From a private circular, dated Thursday, May 15, we gather the views of at least one prominent stock firm as to the look out for the coming week. The circular says: "Cattle—Receipts light and selling brisk; prospects fair. Hogs—Receipts light and selling slow; prospects fair. Sheep—Receipts heavy and selling slow; wool sheep not wanted; will be some unsold."

BURNED DISTRICT.—The hotels and restaurants, destroyed by fire, some time since, have been rebuilt and are again occupied. These buildings are located immediately opposite the main entrance to the Central Stock Yards.

WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE PIG IRON AND BLOOM MARKET.

The market for raw irons the past week remains about the same as at date of last report, with little prospect of improvement in the near future. The volume of sales just about covers the weekly consumption and we cannot reasonably expect much improvement while the price of manufactured iron and nails remain as they now are.

We are reported the following sales:

THE STOCK MARKET.

Railroad bonds firm. Stocks opened firm and after a slight fall there was a general advance of ⅛ to 1½ per cent., with the chief improvement in Union Pacific, which went up from 26⅞ to 28⅜. Next in importance were Pacific Mail, Western Union, Lake Shore, Northwest, and Wabash. The market closed dull and rather weak in tone, at a reaction of ⅛ to ⅜ from the highest point of the day. The decline at the close in both stocks and gold was caused by a rumor that the Treasury intended to retire outstanding legal tenders. The Express says: "Reports were current on the street to-day that an Anglo-American banking house had purchased 15,000 shares of Western Union Telegraph for account of London capitalists connected with the Atlantic cable companies. We could not learn anything definite in regard to these reports, but some incline to the opinion that the old cable companies are desirous of obtaining a controlling interest in Western Union, for the purpose of shutting out any new cables." The sales of stocks for the day were 140,000 shares, of which 30,000 were Western Union, 10,000 Pacific Mail, 17,000 Lake Shore, 9,000 Union Pacific, 5,500 Northwest, and 6,000 Rock Island.

Boats Advertised to Depart.

Cincinnati	Exchange	Shuman,	4 P. M.
St. Louis	A. J. Baker	Poe,	4 P. M.

THE marks last evening indicated four feet ten inches and falling. The weather during the day was very warm. Trade on the landing was moderately active.

CAPT. M. W. BELTZHOOVER is in Cincinnati.

THE steamers Mallie Ragon and Granite State left on time.

THE mammoth steamer Paragon, Captain Darragh, was to leave at daylight this morning.

CANAL toll will be full rate until the river rises, or till the government takes possession.

IT LOOKS like old-time boating to see Captain Thos. Poe boating between Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

THE steamer Thompson Dean, from New Orleans, has the following freight for this end of the river: Wheeling, 3 pkgs mdse.

CAPTAIN I. R. WHITAKER arrived home yesterday after starting his fleet of towboats with good trips, and the Captain is happy.

HANK TERRELL, late second clerk of the Rock Island, and an old and well-known river man, died Monday evening on the steamboat Clinton, en route to St. Paul. He was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

THE fine passenger packet Exchange, Captain Shuman, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville this day. Passengers and shippers will bear this fact in mind. Our clever friend, W. Harbison, will be found in the office.

THE powerful towboat A. J. Baker, Captain Thos. Poe, takes her departure this day, positively, for Louisville, Evansville, Cairo and St. Louis. Mr. John W. Poe, who has charge of the office, is a chip of the old block.

THE bill entitled "An act to revise, amend, and consolidate the laws relating to the security of life on board vessels propelled in whole or part by steam, commonly called the 'Steamboat bill,'" was finished in the House of Representatives on Wednesday.

AT MEMPHIS, on Wednesday, Harry Powers, captain of the steamer Clarksville, was held to answer in the sum of $5,000 for the hanging of S. Bierman, a young Hebrew passenger, to make him confess to having robbed a fellow passenger, and then put him ashore with his hands tied behind him.

THURSDAY'S Cincinnati Gazette says: Pilot Chas. Sebastian died on board the Nick Longworth Tuesday night, of inflammation of the bowels, aged fifty-four years. His wife and son were with him during his last moments, and yesterday removed his remains to Louisville, on the United States, where they will be interred to-day. He leaves four or five grown sons and daughters.

TUESDAY'S Memphis Avalanche says: The price of coal was advanced to river consumers in this market yesterday ten cents per box of 170 pounds, and the rates are now fifty cents for Pittsburgh and forty cents for other grades. A sort of business coalition has been formed between the dealers by which, during the dull summer months, while business is slack, only one tug will be run, and this is likely to be the N. M. Jones. Supplies, as heretofore, are to be taken from flats in tow or at the levee, as passing steamers prefer.

MEDICAL.

FIRST DOSE

On a Boston Police Officer.

BOSTON, November 15, 1871.

H. R. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—In the spring of 1869 I was stricken down with fever, which had a long and almost hopeless run. The best medical advice being in attendance, I was taken through the fever, but it left me terribly reduced and weak, with excruciating pains in my side, back and hips. I was completely prostrated with kidney complaint, and no medicine seemed to reach my case.

In this condition I was persuaded to try VEGETINE by a friend whom it cured of the same disease, and it seemed as though I could feel the effect of the first dose through my whole system; and from that moment I began to mend, gradually growing better from day to day; and I followed on with the VEGETINE, until it completely restored me to health, since which time I have been able to resume my duties as a police officer, enjoying good health; and there is no doubt about the great value of VEGETINE in Kidney Complaint and similar diseases. I am, sir, respectfully,

LAFAYETTE FORD,
564 Broadway.

All Diseases of the Blood.

If VEGETINE will relieve pain, cleanse, purify and cure such diseases, restoring the patient to perfect health after trying different physicians, many remedies, suffering for years, is it not conclusive proof, if you are a sufferer, you can be cured? Why is this medicine performing such great cures? It works in the blood, in the circulating fluid. It can truly be called the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER. The great source of disease originates in the blood; and no medicine that does not act directly upon it, to purify and renovate, has any just claim upon public attention.

SEVENTY-ONE YEARS OF AGE.

EAST MARSHFIELD, August 22, 1870.

MR. STEVENS:

Dear Sir—I am seventy-one years of age; have suffered many years with Kidney Complaint, weakness in my back and stomach. I was induced by friends to try your VEGETINE, and I think it the best medicine for weakness of the kidneys I ever used. I have tried many remedies for this complaint, and never found so much relief as from the VEGETINE. It strengthens and invigorates the whole system. Many of my acquaintances have taken it, and I believe it to be good for all the complaints for which it is recommended.

Yours truly, JOSIAH H. SHERMAN.

Would Give a Dollar for a Dose.

BOSTON, May 30, 1871.

H. R. STEVENS, ESQ.:

Dear Sir—I have been badly afflicted with Kidney Complaint for ten years; have suffered great pain in my back and hips, and side, with great difficulty in passing urine, which was often and in very small quantities, frequently accompanied with blood and excruciating pains. I have faithfully tried most of the popular remedies recommended for my complaint; I have been under the treatment of some of the most skillful physicians in Boston, all of whom pronounced my case incurable. This was my condition when I was advised by a friend to try the VEGETINE, and I could see the good effects from the first dose I took, and from that moment I kept on improving until I was entirely cured, taking in all, I should think, about six bottles.

It is indeed a valuable medicine, and if I should be afflicted again in the same way I would give a dollar for a dose, if I could not get it without.

Respectfully, J. M. GILE,
361 Third street, South Boston.

Life a Burden.

BOSTON, November 2, 1873.

H. R. STEVENS, Esq.:

Dear Sir—From a poor, emaciated sufferer, the VEGETINE has restored me to perfect health.

I have for years been a terrible sufferer from Canker and Dyspepsia, at times rendering life almost a burden to me. I am now fifteen (15) pounds heavier than when I commenced the great use of VEGETINE.

I will make mention that I was also a great sufferer from Kidney Complaint, causing excruciating pain through the small of the back nearly all of the time. This, too, VEGETINE has cured, and I am now a perfect picture of health, and, I might also add, happiness—all caused from the use of a few bottles of VEGETINE.

Respectfully, H. G. HUGHES,
1 Union place, Boston, Mass.

VEGETINE is composed of Roots, Barks and Herbs. It is very pleasant to take; every child likes it.

Vegetine is Sold by all Druggists.

FOR SALE, &C.

LAKE SUPERIOR Iron Ore.

TO LEASE FOR A TERM OF YEARS,

The Washington Iron Company's

MINES,

At and Near Humboldt, Marquette County, Michigan.

This Large and Valuable Property is now offered for Lease from and after May 1st next. It is situated in Sections 1, 2, 11 and 12, and Township 47, Range 29, Marquette county, comprising 1,600 Acres of Land and extending for two miles east and west upon the Iron Range. The Property has been long and favorably known as containing large deposits of both Specular and Magnetic Ore, of extreme purity, which has a high reputation among consumers. It is traversed through nearly its whole length by the Marquette, Houghton and Octonagon Railroad, and is provided with convenient Sidings at several different points. It is well provided with Hoisting, Pumping and Drilling Machinery, with houses sufficient for the accommodation of 400 workmen with their families.

There is also provided with an ample working equipment of Mining Tools and Utensils of every kind; Horses, Sleighs, Wagons, and the like, which will be disposed of to the lessee at a fair valuation.

The openings and improvements already made are large and extensive, demonstrating the great extent of the deposits, and the best manner of working them in the future. The indications of the magnetic or dip-needle, which when it falls to 90 degrees upon the property has invariably pointed to deposits of ore of standard shipping quality (67 per cent.), show very large bodies of Ore which no attempt has yet been made to develop, and upon which mining can be profitably carried on for many years. No other equally well known, valuable and extensive Iron Property in the Lake Superior Region has ever been offered for Lease; and the present will be found an extremely favorable opportunity for Ore consumers who wish to control their own supply. Every facility will be offered for examination of the property and its improvements by parties desiring to lease. About 15,000 tons of Standard Ore, which has been mined during the winter, will be retained by the owners; but a very large amount of Ore (about 75,000 tons), now lying at the Mines, will become the property of the lessees, subject only to the royalty which may be agreed on.

Parties who desire to Lease are invited to visit the Mines and examine them in person, but any preliminary information which may be wanted will be furnished upon application to Malicious Mischief.

A lad named John Cornelius was arrested and taken before Alderman Krehan yesterday on a charge of malicious mischief, preferred by officer John Moore, of the Pittsburgh, Virginia and Charleston Railway. The boy, it is stated, was in the habit of getting inside an old brewery on Eleventh street, and hurling large sized boulders at the passing trains. Yesterday morning one of the boulders came near knocking Moore's brains out, and on Thursday a fireman of the train was made a target for several boulders. Cornelius acknowledged the acts and implicates another boy named Daniel Kurtz as a party to them. A warrant was issued, and a hearing will probably be had to-day.

Decoration Day.

This national memorial day will be observed the coming thirtieth of May in Allegheny, with appropriate ceremonies. At the Soldiers' Monument Rev. Mr. Snyder, of the North avenue M. E. Church, will deliver an oration. The G. A. R. and the school children will participate in the exercises. A select choir of twenty-five voices will contribute to the interest of the occasion. After the exercises at the monument, the throng will disperse, only the G. A. R. being allowed to decorate the graves in Uniondale cemetery.

Post No. 117, G. A. R., East End, has appointed a committee to confer with Post 3, to make arrangements for conformity of action between the two Posts in the observance of Decoration Day.

The New Birmingham Engine House.

Messrs. L. Benz & Bro., contractors for the construction of the new engine house on the corner of Bingham and Ninth streets, South Side, are proceeding with the work satisfactorily, and are making good progress. The building fronts on Bingham street facing this side the river, and from the Ninth street side it is furnished with ample light by numerous windows. The building is two stories high, the first story front being of iron, furnished by the well known firm of Henry A. Freyvogle & Co. The brick work is neat, and the house will, when finished, present a very handsome appearance. A roomy and airy stable occupies the rear, while the one side rises a hose tower of sufficient height to enable the stretching of the hose to full length. Altogether, the new building will be one of the neatest and most comfortable of the department.

Poor Pat. Murphy.

This well-known genius, the pet of the Allegheny police, was found, about half-past seven o'clock last evening, sprawling on the Federal street sidewalk, near the Suspension bridge, in a state of utter helplessness. A wagon was procured, and Pat deposited in the most comfortable room in the basement of City Hall. On Monday he slipped out of the Allegheny Poor House unobserved, and made his way to the city, where he has spent the interval in frequenting his old haunts. Pat is a character. In 1840, during the temperance excitement, he was seduced into taking the pledge, and keeping it too, for two weeks. Since then he has been drinking constantly. He is reported to be nearly seventy years old, and is a living example of alcoholic pickling for at least thirty-four years. Pat will likely be returned to the Poor House to-day. At the time of his capture, a drunken barber, who was endeavoring to explain to the crowd gathered around, that Pat "had fit in the Rivlution," was also bagged by the police and placed in a second-class room in the North Side bastile.

A Drive and a Duck.

Four well known North Side sports started out to have some fun yesterday afternoon. In order to enjoy themselves the better, they bought huge straw hats apiece for a "bit;" hired a couple of buggies; crusaded the saloons until they were tired, (?) and finally concluded to take a skiff ride. Just above the north end of the suspension bridge they engaged two skiffs, in which they plashed around in vitious circles till they passed the Smoky Island abutment of the Union bridge. Here a sudden gust of wind—they say, but their friends claim it was "bock"—upset one of the skiffs, spilling the two bipeds into the waters of the Allegheny. Their companions lurched toward them, and they, too, were poured out into the river. The timely arrival of a friendly, level-headed oarsman in a yawl, and the shallowness of the water spoiled four cases for the Coroner. The quartette, it may be added, were taken home in a coal cart, well-drenched, minus the roof of their hats, and the broad brim encircling their necks, to the great admiration of their friends and the small boys.

The Late Willard Leonard.

The death of this old and well known Pittsburgher has already been announced in these columns, and general regret has everywhere been expressed at his sudden demise. Although he had attained the ripe age of eighty-three years he had been blessed with good health, and to all appearances seemed likely to live for many years longer. Having retired from active business and settled down upon a farm which he had purchased near Butler that he might spend his remaining days amid rural scenes and pleasures, he and his venerable partner were happily wending their way together, not dreaming that their journey was so near its end. On Monday of last week Mrs. Leonard sustained severe injuries from a fall, breaking her breast bone and two of her ribs. She was also injured internally, and her recovery is almost hopeless. This sad dispensation deeply affected Mr. Leonard, and he never recovered from the shock. On Sunday following the accident, he was seized with typhoid pneumonia, and died on Thursday. His daughter, Mrs. F. B. Holmes, of this city, was speedily summoned, and was enabled to minister to her father in his last hours, and comfort her mother in her deep affliction. Mrs. I. P. Whitesides, of Philadelphia, another daughter, was telegraphed for, but did not arrive until after her father's death. Mrs. Leonard (widow of George W. Leonard, who was a son of the deceased,) has been residing with the family for some years, and has been most constant and devoted in her attentions. This sudden dashing of hopes, and ruthless severing of ties, although fraught with sorrow to children and friends carried no sting or terror to the good old man who has departed from us. He was always ready for the summons, come when it might. A long life, spent in the service of his Master, enabled him to bid the grim messenger a christian welcome. His funeral will take place this afternoon, at two o'clock, from Liberty street M. E. church, of which congregation he was an original member, and an active and influential officer. Mr. Leonard was for almost half a century one of our most respected citizens, and prominent business men. He was highly esteemed for his integrity of character, and for those social qualities which showed so conspicuous through his life, and which leave to his children a precious memory. While all who knew him must regret his departure, we ... will be ready ... "Let me die the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his."

DIVIDING A WARD.

Citizens of the Second Ward in Council.

A large meeting of the Second ward, Allegheny, was held in the school house last evening, pursuant to call, for the purpose of dividing the ward into precincts. Mr. H. M. Dunlap was called to the chair, and Mr. John Myers was appointed Secretary. After discussion it was decided to divide the ward into four precincts, as follows:

First precinct—That portion of the ward south of North avenue.

Second precinct—That portion of the ward south of Samson street, Davis alley and Buena Vista street.

Third precinct—That portion of the ward south of old city line to West Jefferson street, along West Jefferson to Montgomery, to Ackley, all south of Ackley and Jefferson streets.

Fourth precinct—All that portion of the ward north of the last mentioned boundaries.

The City Solicitor, who was present, was requested to prepare a petition to court praying for the proposed division. This petition will likely be presented in court to-day. The meeting adjourned till next Friday evening, when the report of the City Solicitor relative to the action of court in the matter will be submitted.

THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

Monthly Reports—Suke's Run Again.

A regular meeting of the Board of Health of the city was held yesterday afternoon, Mr. Edwards in the chair.

After the reading and approval of the minutes of the preceding meeting—

The Health Officer reported for the past month the following business: Nuisances abated 483; permits to clean privy 143.

The receipts from permits were $71 50 and from other sources $20, a total of $91 50. The expenditures were $25 15, leaving a balance of $66 35.

The numbers of births reported for the quarter ending March 31st 1,260; marriages 338; and deaths 813. Number of deaths in April 279. Accepted.

The report of the Physician for the month was read and accepted.

Mr. Gray, Health Officer reported that after examination he would recommend the construction of a sewer on Almond alley, Seventh ward.

An application for permit to clean vaults was accepted and referred to the Sanitary Committee.

The Health officer reported that arrangements would be made for the abatement of the nuisance at the soap factory on Liberty street.

Mr. Backofen brought up the never ending subject of the Suke's Run Sewer and stated that citizens of the Sixth ward were likely to again suffer for another summer. Already the stench is noticeable and there is delay in the construction of the sewer now under contract.

The matter was referred to the Sanitary Committee in connection with the Health Officer.

Mr. Schwartz, Mr. Smith and Mr. Scott, citizens of the Seventh ward, appeared before the Board and made complaint of a nuisance on the property of Mrs. Allinder on Wylie avenue caused by a spring and also by a leak from the spring. After considerable discussion a resolution was adopted requiring the abatement of the nuisance.

THE PENN AVENUE ACT.

The Arguments in the Equity Case Postponed.

At ten o'clock yesterday morning, the arguments on the motion for a preliminary injunction in the cases of Mellon vs. the City of Pittsburgh, and Sawyer vs. The City of Pittsburgh and the Commissioners for the improvement of Butler street extension, came on for hearing in the District Court.

Judge Mellon desires to enjoin the issuing of bonds for the improvement of Fifth avenue extension, Grazier street, and other connecting thoroughfares. He alleges in his bill that he has a lot on the proposed street worth $1,000, and that it will take an assessment of $1,200 to pay for the improvement, or $220 more than the lot is worth.

Mr. Sawyer, in his bill, attacks the constitutionality of the Penn avenue act, in several of its provisions, and his counsel, Mr. Geyer, yesterday filed a supplemental bill, in which it is set forth that Butler street extension traverses a sparsely settled region of country, and that the improvement would be of general rather than local benefit. He also cites the fact that Messrs. Lockhart and Frew own a frontage of four thousand feet, the improvement of which will cost $40,000, while the property is not worth $20,000. They give notice that if the assessment is made the city may take the property, and make the best of it.

In both the above bills, similar questions are raised, and the court was very desirous of hearing them argued together, so that the whole question would be finally adjusted. It appeared, however, that all the counsel in the Sawyer case could not be present, and a postponement was asked by their colleague, Mr. Geyer.

Judge Mellon and Mr. Sutton were ready to go on in the other case, as were also Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Slagle, on behalf of the city; but the court felt reluctant to hear the cases piecemeal.

Judge Mellon then asked for a preliminary injunction in his case, but Mr. Bigelow proposed a written stipulation, as attorney for the city, that no steps would be taken until the case was finally heard. This was deemed sufficient by the Court, and the paper was prepared and signed accordingly. The cases were then placed on the argument list, and will be reached about the middle of June.

Great Improvement in Bank Safes.

The recent bank robberies throughout the country have not been without their effect upon banks and bankers, and have stimulated them to greater exertions to preserve their valuables from the midnight attack of the daring burglar. To more effectually accomplish that purpose, and to do it with the least expense consistent with perfect protection a large number of bankers in this city and vicinity have availed themselves of (the heretofore) never failing security offered in the use of the justly celebrated Hall's Patent Dovetailed Burglar Proof Safe, a superior sample of which is now on exhibition at their sales rooms, 93 Smithfield street. Nearly all the important features peculiar to this company are embodied in this safe, and is said by the expert, as well as the burglar, to combine a greater degree of security than can be procured in any other style of work, while the quality of the mechanism is such that it precludes the idea of any imperfection in any part. This safe, now on exhibition, is of a peculiar class and different in some respects from any in the city, and is designed for the First National Bank of Butler, and its officers may justly be proud of their safe, not alone for its undoubted reputation, but for its intrinsic merits, and it will, no doubt, act to the best interest of the bank as well as to its patrons.

Since the great robbery at Quincy, Illinois, an unusual number of orders for these safes have been sent from every State, from Massachusetts to California, the aggregate amount at the present time on the order book, exceeding one hundred and fifty thousand dollars.

This, of itself, would seem to be a large production, even for a year's business, but this sum is, small when we consider the fact that the present production is largely in excess of five hundred safes a month, many of them ranging in size from six to eight and a half feet in height, and in weight from ten to thirty-five thousand pounds.

A visit at the office on Smithfield street, and a quiet talk with Mr. Ayer, manager of the Pittsburgh branch, and an examination of their recent improvements, as well as an inspection of the tools and appliances now used by burglars for operating on the ordinary pattern of safe, will convince any unprejudiced mind that the Hall Safe is the "ne plus ultra" of security.
